

The DAC Equity Income strategy is a growth and income portfolio of investments in dividend growth stocks as well as midstream energy companies and Master Limited Partnerships (MLPs). It is designed for investors seeking enhanced income and growth of principal through an equity investment with reduced market risk. Most holdings will be stocks of large, well-established companies identified through DAC's investment process requiring dividend growth of at least 10%, on average, for a minimum of 10 consecutive years. Remaining holdings are publicly traded, midstream MLPs and C-Corporations offering the potential for higher investment income than more traditional sources.

- Since 1926, dividends have accounted for approximately one-third of the total return of the stock market, while capital appreciation contributed two-thirds.
- Dividend yield, as a component of total return, is historically less volatile than price appreciation.
- “Good companies pay dividends, great companies grow dividends.” (C. Troy Shaver, Jr.)

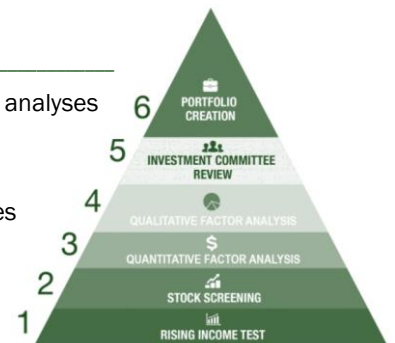

OPPORTUNITIES OF MIDSTREAM ENERGY INVESTMENTS

- Midstream energy companies and MLPs operate high quality, irreplaceable assets that transport and/or store energy commodities generating stable cash flows.
- They offer investment opportunities in the energy sector with consistently higher income than more traditional sources but without exposure to exploration risk.
- We believe an overweight allocation to midstream energy may lower overall portfolio volatility, through diversification, without negatively impacting long term returns.
- Fees charged by midstream energy companies are often long-term, contractual obligations, regulated by Federal agencies and indexed to inflation.

Past performance is not indicative of future results. Returns are presented gross and net of management fees and include the reinvestment of all income. Gross of fee returns are reduced by actual trading costs incurred. Net of fee returns are reduced by trading costs and the composite's model (highest) investment management fee. All-inclusive/Bundled/Wrap fee accounts pay a fee based on a percentage of assets under management. Other than brokerage commissions this fee includes investment management, portfolio monitoring, consulting services, and in some cases, custodial services. Net of fee performance was calculated using a model fee of 3.00%.

Growth of $100,000 (10-years as of 6/30/2023)

Historical performance results shown in the above graphs generally do not reflect the deduction of transaction and/or custodial charges. The "Pure Gross of Fees" results are calculated gross of all fees. The "Net of Fees" value reflects the deduction of DAC's investment management fee for the representative account in the strategy's Institutional Composite (currently .475%). The inclusion of transaction, custodial and/or advisory fees as well as other expenses will reduce actual returns.
